Dear Public Service Commission,

Duke should quit investing in dirty, old energy like coal and nuclear, and actually invest in the cheaper renewable technologies its executives claim to support. I want the Carolinas to be more energy efficient and powered by local wind & solar that will employ thousands of Carolinians.

Sincerely,

Susan Hafer

Dear Public Service Commission,

There is a lot to like about Duke Energy service.

Stinking, unhealthy pollution and unconscionable rate hikes are not among them. Duke can do better. North Carolina has enormous resources in the way of talented, well educated engineers in all sorts of non or low polluting energy sources and Duke needs to draw upon that intelligence and education to meet its needs as well as its consumer's needs.

Duke should quit investing in dirty, old energy like coal and nuclear, and actually invest in the cheaper renewable technologies its executives claim to support. I want the Carolinas to be more energy efficient and powered by local wind & solar that will employ thousands of Carolinians.
